

I am a Flt. Attnd for a major airline. I oppose the use of cell phones while planes are airborne because there is no evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere w/navigational equipment, they would enable terrorists to communicate onboard, distract passengers from safety related issues such as evacuations. It's difficult enough to get passengers off the phone once the aircraft door closes, for pushback. Further, not everyone has cell phone ettiquette-people talk too loudly (annoying)& some use foul language knowing that kids are around hearing their conversations.
